Dear Persons!

Due to circumstances in my life, I was not able to meet my daughter Kyla until she was almost 4 years old.

The department of family services social worker Megan Silsby introduced me to the 4C's. At that point, it was a real adjustment for my daughter when she thought someone else was her father to find out her real father was me.

When I first started meeting my daughter at the 4C's they made the surrounding circumstances more families in their more of a home setting atmosphere. At this point it was easier for my daughter to adjust and feel more comfortable getting to know me.

At this point I am still involved with the 4C's for home visits where Kyla has had a chance to meet not only me but other

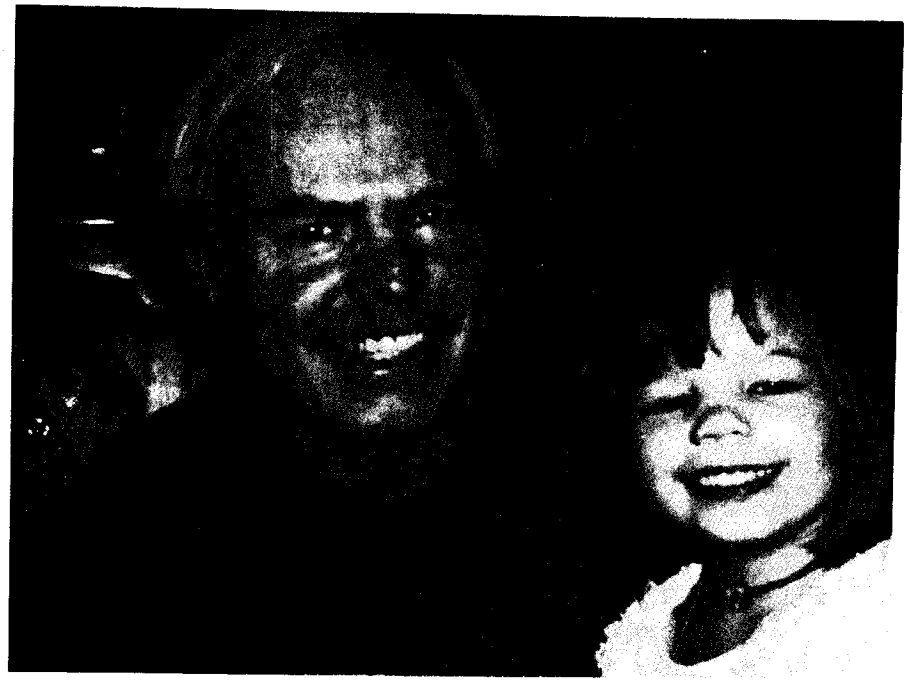
her grandma and most of her 7 aunts and uncles and numerous cousins.

Without the involement with the 4C's it would have been much more difficult for my daughter to know me and become more familiar with me.

Its hard for me to imagine how difficult all this would have been without the help of the 4C's.


Thank You
Con Green
